INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To Jeff Ballingall, chief financial officer of Ontario Proud, and the Chief of Electoral Office of Ontario

We have audited the political advertising financial statement of Ontario Proud, which comprise the statement of income and expenses for the reporting period from May 9, 2017 to September 7, 2018. The financial statement has been prepared by the chief financial officer of the third party based on the financial reporting provisions of Subsection 37.12 of the Ontario Election Finances Act and guidance issued by the Chief Electoral Officer.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The chief financial officer is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with the financial reporting provisions of Subsection 37.12 of the Ontario Election Finances Act and guidance issued by the Chief Electoral Officer and for such internal control as he determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

Due to the inherent nature of the transactions of organizations of this type, the completeness of the various categories of income and expenses is not susceptible to satisfactory audit verification. Accordingly, our verification of income and expenses were limited to the amounts recorded in the records of Ontario Proud and we were not able to determine whether any adjustment might be necessary to income and expenses for the period from May 9, 2017 to September 7, 2018.

To: Jeff Ballingall, chief financial officer of Ontario Proud, and the Chief Electoral Officer of Ontario

We have audited the accompanying Schedules of Form TPAR-1 (the "Schedules") of Ontario Proud for the reporting period from May 9, 2017 to September 7, 2018.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The chief financial officer is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the Schedules in accordance with the financial reporting provisions of Subsection 37.12 of the Ontario Election Finances Act and guidance issued by the Chief Electoral Officer, and for such internal control as he determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the Schedules that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Schedules based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Schedules are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures of the Schedules. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation of the Schedules in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the Schedules.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion.
